POINTS FOR THE COMMITTEE.

MANY PROMINENT REPUBLICAN LEADERS

IN THE CITY.

THE QUESTION OF A LONG OR SHORT CAMPAIGN AND THE ADVISABILITY OF THE REPUBLICANS

> SIDERED-A CALL TO BE ISSUED SOON FOR A MEETING OF THE NA

TIGNAL COMMITTEE

The members of the Republican National Comnittee are slowly coming into the city, and within a few days Chairman Thomas H. Carter, of Montana, will issue a call for the meeting of the committee to be held in Washington. Mr. Carter akes the Imperial Hotel his headquarters when in the city, but he is a busy man and he does a great deal of running around. He was seen yesterday in several of the hotels, where he had gone to consult with members of the committee who are in the city. Mr. Carter admitted yesterday that as soon as he could arrange a few details he yould issue a call for the meeting, but declined to discuss any of the details that the committee would be called upon to settle at its meeting in Several prominent members of the committee are already in the city. Among them are James S. Clarkson, of Iowa; Samuel Fessenden, of Con-William Murray Crane, of Massachusetts; Richard C. Kerens, of Missouri; William M. Hahn, of Ohio. Joseph H. Manley, chairman of the Executive Committee, is expected in the city either to-day or to-morrow. Mr. Manley passed through the city hurriedly a few days ago on his way West. Senator Quay, so it is will arrive to-morrow, as well as G. Hobart, of New-Jersey. The conference between these members will probably be held to-day, when the subject of calling the committee together to select a place and date for holding the Repubional Convention will be considered; also the more immediate question of the Republicans organizing the next Senate will be discussed.

THE ORGANIZATION OF THE SENATE.

This subject of organizing the Senate will doubt less lead to a warm discussion, as there is a difof opinion among the Republican leaders as to the advisability of organizing the Senate. Senator Redfield Proctor has declared himself in favor of the Republicans organizing the Senate with the aid of certain Populists. Such an organization would give the Republicans a chance to take the initiative in legislation and give the Republicans the opportunity to throw the blame for any failure of legislation upon President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle. Especially in financial legislation, Mr. Proctor thinks, this organization would be valuable. On the other and, recently, Senator Sherman, of Ohio, expressed himself as against any attempt on the part of the Republicans to organize the Senate unless it was with a clear Republican majority.

unless it was with a clear Republican majority. When Chairman Carter, who is also Senator from Montana, was asked for an opinion concerning the organization of the Senate he expressed himself in favor of the view taken by Senator Sherman. He said:

"I am not in favor of forming an alliance with the Populists for the purpose of allowing the Republicans to organize the Senate. It would be a compromise, and I am opposed to anything of the sort. It would be wrong to organize the Senate and then stand with hands tied in the matter of legislation. I shall oppose any plan or scheme to give the Republicans the partial or total organization of the Senate if it leaves them helpless to pass any legislation that is distinctively Republican. If organization was effected through the aid of the Populists it would make the Republicans only nominal masters of the situation. All that could be gained by the Republicans organizing the Senate would be a few offices and a few chairmanships of committees, and they might prove altogether too costly." light prove altogether too costly. THE LENGTH OF THE CAMPAIGN.

argument is presented and a marked difference opinion is manifest. Mr. Clarkson is in favor of a long campaign, and Mr. Manley is also credited with wishing such a course to be followed. On the other hand, Mr. Kerens, Senator Elkins and others have declared themselves emphati-cally against a long campaign. Mr. Clarkson's reasons for wanting an early convention and a long campaign are based upon the theory that an educational canvass promises best for the Re-publican party. He thinks that a literary cam-paign is always best, and that the widespread scattering of campaign literature is essential to scattering of campaign literature is essential to Republican success. He does not care where or when the National Committee meets, but does want an early convention and a long campaign. Mr. Kerens says that a long canvass acts like a drag on business; that it keeps the country in a state of feverish unrest, and business interests in such an uncertain condition that it affects the prosperity of the country. Then, too, it is a strain upon the people, the campaign managers and everybody else. It keeps public sentiment changeable. One day it flares up, then dies down, and so gets hot and cold by turns.

With the difference of opinion rife upon these two points, the coming conference of the National Committeemen will be of especial interest.

SHAKES OF THIS COMPANY NOT LISTED

THEY DID NOT EVEN EXIST, AND THE MAN WHO MADE AN ALLEGED SALE OF THEM IS ARRESTED.

Allen E. Madden, a dealer in oils, at No. 229 Front st., this city, who lives at Cranford, N. J., was induced about a year ago to buy $396 worth of stock in "the New-York and Newark Elevated Railroad Company." A friend, James E. Cuthell, thirty-seven years old, of No. 993 Dean-st., Brooklyn, told him it was a good investment and that he had 400 shares in it. Cuthell teld him that he was vice-presiden in it. Cuthell teld him that he was vice-president of the Chesapeake and Fredericksburg Rallroad, and that a certain Wall Street broker would get the stock for him. The broker, the police say, was in the scheme with Cuthell, and, after getting all he thought he could out of Madden, left the city. When Madden could not find the broker nor Cuthell he looked up the New-York and Newark Elevated Rallroad and learned that no such stock was listed on the New-York Stock Exchange. Madden then procured a warrant on August 1, 1834, for Cuthell. For some reason which the police have not explained the warrant was not served until yesterday, when the accused man was found in his office at No. 123 Liberty-st

CHARGED WITH STEALING SILK. John Bergen, employed by Christian Eldrot, a slik merchant, at No. 93 Greene-st., was arrested yes-terday at his home, No. 93 Franklin-st., Jersey City, on the charge of stealing silk valued at $1,500. He is held in Jersey City for extradition.

NO EVIDENCE OF GAMBLING. John W. Morris, forty-four years old, of No. 26 West Twenty-seventh-st.; William Emerson, forty-five years old, of the Sturtevant House; James Harrison, sixty-one years old, of No. 41 West Ninety-second-st.; Abraham Graham, five years old, of No. 117 East One-hundred-andsixteenth-st., and Edward Turner, forty-eight years sixteenth-st., and Edward Turner, forty-eight years old, of Philadelphia, who were arrested Thursday night by Captain Pickett, of the Tenderloin Precinct, for conducting a gambling game at No. 35 West Twenty-seventh-st., were arraigned in the Jefferson Market Court yesterday.

Captain Pickett admitted that he did not find any money changing hands. The prisoners contended that they were merely playing cards for a supper, and denied that the house was used as a gambling house. Magistrate Wentworth discharged the prisoners.

WORK AT THE UNION METHODIST CHURCH At the Union Methodist Episcopal Church, Forty-eighth-st., west of Broadway, the Rev. Dr. James King, the pastor, will speak to-morrow evening "The Political Situation from the Moral Standpoint," his text being, "I am a citizen of no mean city." On Monday evening, in this church, the city." On Monday evening, in this church, the Sunday-School Association of New-York City will hold a public meeting, presided over by G. Waldo Smith Miss Kate S. Chittenden will speak on "The Place of Musical Instruments in Sunday-School Work," and Dr. H. R. Palmer will speak about "The Theory and Practice of Teaching Music." Friday evening next, the Wesleyan League of the church will hold a meeting in the interests of municipal reform, at which Theodore Roosevelt, G. Waldo Smith and others will speak.

THE JERSEY CITY WATER CONTRACT.

A hearing in the certiorari proceedings in regard to the Jersey City water contract was begun in Chancery Chambers, in Jersey City, yesterday Wanser was the only witness examined. He Mayor Wanser was the only witness examined. He testified that he and Corporation Attorney Weart drew the specifications and that he favored the Jersey City Company because it had sixty-five square miles of watershed, and he believed the water it offered to be the purest. He had no objection to the appointment of an expert by the Finance Board. What he objected to, he said, was the appointment of an expert by one member of the Board who was opposed to a new supply. The hearing will be continued to-day.

THE PLAY TRAMP GOT THE NAG.

NAPOLEON HELPED CREIGG ON HIS WAY FROM BINGHAMTON TO NEW-YORK-MORE OF "MALONEY'S RAFFLE."

Magistrate Brann in Yorkville Court yesterday heard another instalment of the trouble between James Fulton, manager of the play "Maloney's Raffle," and Miss Maggie Weston, who takes the leading woman's part in the performance. The contention is over the box office receipts in Bing-hamton on October 5, which Fulton is charged with

At the hearing on Tuesday only three members of the company had reached New-York, but there were several arrivals early yesterday morning.
Among them were "Pete" Creigg, who played the part of the tramp in the play. He was an in portant witness for Fulton. He only walked two thirds of the way. He covered one-third of the distance on horseback. It appears that a horse figured in the play. He was the subject of the raffle. In the first act Miss Maggie Weston, known as Mrs. Bedelia Maloney rides him on to the stage en-down nag was usually secured at each town where the company played. In an interior town where the company played a one-night stand, white horse with discernible ribs was obtained According to the story told by Fulton to Magistrate Brann vesterday afternoon Miss Weston, who weighs more than two hundred pounds, mounted horse in the wings and the animal sustained a fractured spine and collapsed on the stage. was shortly before the company collapsed.

Creigg was in the hardest luck of any of the com pany because he had to wear his tramp clothes out of Binghamton. His trunk was tied up in the hotel When the company played its final engagement in Binghamton a horse was purchased for $10. It sus tained Miss Weston's weight through the perfor ance, but was very weak when led off the stage The horse was down on the programme as Napoleon. When a long walk confronted the ten members of the troupe, Creigg secured Napoleon and moved out of town. In telling his experiences to Magistrate Brann yesterday he said; "The horse went along all right, Your Honor, for a few miles, but he was hungry and so was I. I allowed him to stop and eat grass, and how I envied that horse. I couldn't eat grass, Your Honor. The horse's backbone made me lame, and when a few miles out of Binghamton he laid down and refused to get up. I had to leave him. I caught a fast freight later and made my way by easy stages to New-York."

Magistrate Brann then inquired into the financial affairs of the company, amid many interruptions from Fulton and Miss Weston, and finding that Fulton had paid out more than he had received in the venture, discharged him. The horse was down on the programme as Napole Americans; 654 were Episcopalians; 668 were under the rules of admission.

The report of the Training School for Nurses was presented, showing the school to be in a flourishing condition. Mrs. Lilly W. Quintard, superintendent of the Connecticut Training School for Nurses, of the New-Haven Hospital, has been appointed director of nurses at St. Luke's. Thirty-eight pupils, with two probationers, are in the school; twenty were graduated in the year.

Seventeen of the thirty-two lots of the property at Fifty-fourth-st. and Fifth-ave. have been sold, it is expected that the hospital work will be transferred to the new buildings at One-hundred-and-thirteenth-st. and Morningside-ave. by February 1, 1995.

SHE TIED HER SON TO THE GRAPE ARBOR

THE MOTHER CHARGED WITH CHAINING THE BOY FOR THREE DAYS, AND ADMITS DOING SO

FROM MORNING TILL AFTERNOON. Mrs. Carrie Bayard, of No. 23 Devoe-st., Brooklyn, was a prisoner before Justice Laimbeer, in the Ewen Street Police Court, of that city, yesterday. charged with cruelly treating her seven-year-old stepson, Burrell Bayard, in September last. The of the woman was brought about by Mrs. Julia Mott, a city missionary, who brought case to the attention of the Children's Society. According to Mrs. Mott, the child was tied for three days and nights to the grape arbor in the yard of his home, without food, or proper clothing to protect him from the weather. When the officer went to the home of Mrs. Bayard to arrest her, he found that she had just become a mother, and it was not until yesterday that she was able to leave the house. Mrs. Bayard admitted keeping the boy tied to the arbor one day, from 7 o'clock in the morning until the afternoon, but denied that she had tied him there the next two days, as was charged. She said the boy had tied himself. Justice Laimbeer paroled her for examination. The boy is now being cared for at the South Third Street Industrial Home.

AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

HE WILL HAVE TO WEAR STRIPES. FEMALE IMPERSONATOR WHO ROBBED MRS.

ADOLPH SIMIS TO BE SENT TO SING SING. Henry Fisher, allas Mortimer, the female impersonator, who robbed Mrs. Adolph Simis, mother of the Charity Commissioner, of $3,500 in diamonds and jewelry last June, was sentenced by Judge Moore, in the Court of Sessions, yesterday years and eight months in Sing Sing. The Judge accompanied the sentence with a lecture, in which accompanied the sentence with a lecture, in which he upbraided Fisher for rank ingratitude toward a woman who had befriended him. It was thought Fisher would get off with a light sentence, as Mrs.
Simis had told him that she would surely get him out of his scrape.
Fisher was with Mrs. Simis as her valet at the ARRESTED.

John Sigelman, a canvasser, fifty-five years old, living at No. 747 Driggs-ave., entered the barroom of the Minden House early yesterday morning and told the bartender to make him a cocktail. As he was about to drink. Sigelman declared that it was was about to drink. Sigelman declared that it was "his last." After emptying the glass Sigelman walked to the telephone and called up Police Headquarters, requesting that a policeman be sent to the place to arrest him for intoxication. He didn't have to wait long before an officer arrived. At the station he demanded to be sent to jail at once. When arraigned in the Lee Avenue Police Court, he begged the Magistrate to send him to prison. Justice Goetting remanded him until to-day, until his sanity could be inquired into.

Before Lafayette Post, G. A. R., last night, in the post rooms, in the Masonic Temple, Admiral Richard W. Meade read an interesting historical paper on John Paul Jones. The Admiral held his hero up to general admiration as the sponsor of the American flag on the seas, as the first officer to pro-pose naval evolutions and as the first to advocate the establishment of a naval academy. This academy, however, he proposed to conduct in a fleet of frigates on the sea, and not upon shore. As to the charge of brutality preferred against Jones, the Admiral had this remark, he said, to make to rising young naval officers: "You cannot make an omeout breaking eggs." VERDICT OF $7,000 AGAINST THE TRACTION CO A jury before Judge Bartlett, in the Circuit Court, Brooklyn, yesterday returned a verdict of $7,300 in favor of Charles Harper in his suit for damages against the Metropolitan Traction Company New-York. Harper, who is sixty-four years old, was riding in a United States mail wagon when it was run into by a Broadway cable car between White and Walker sts. He was thrown to the ground and severely injured. On a former trial the jury disagreed.

Hasn't anybody told you about the character of the gentlemen's clothes we are making? Every clothier advertises "stylish clothing"; the merit of ours consists largely in the fact that it is "so different." Fall Top Coats $15 to $40. Gentlemen's Sack Suits $12 to $40. London Frock Suits $20, $22, $25 and $30.

Walking Gloves, Special, 90c. Natural Gray Underwear, Special, $1. Do you know our 50c. Neckwear?

Some things always go in pairs.

For nearly a year we've hurrahed for America and American gloveshaving found a glove good enough to put our name on.

It's time now, if ever, that complaints should be made; they don't seem to come-duplicate orders, the real test, do come.

Speaking of complaints it's strange you don't bring in more about suits, overcoats, shoes, hats or furnishings. At every sale we say "come back for your money," as though it was the most profitable part of our whole business.

It is, it wins good will-means permanent customers.

Stores closed at six o'clock.
